Congratulations

I am pleased to join you in honoring the Academic Mentoring Program participants on the occasion of College Bounds' 29th Annual End of the Year Celebration.

In noting this magnificent milestone, I would like to congratulate you for your hard work, dedication, and perseverance. I encourage you to continue to the same diligence and achievement as you make the transition into this next phase of your lives. And to the staffers of College Bound, I thank you for your continued support and encouragement of District of Columbia students. Your organization's proven rate of success is commendable, and we are lucky to have you in our city.

You all have my warmest and best wishes. Again, CONGRATULATIONS!

Sincerely,

Eleanor H. Norton

29th End of Year Celebration

May 21, 2020

As Mayor of Washington, DC, it is my sincere pleasure to congratulate the College Bound organization, its student participants, and especially its 2020 graduates on your End of Year Celebration.

For 29 years, College Bound has led talented and gifted students in grades 8-12 through the rigors and demands of academic preparedness with the goal of attending college and thriving there. For the last ten years, College Bound has had a 100% high school graduation and college acceptance rate. Even in these challenging and uncertain times, College Bound has continued to help students graduate from high school, prepare for college, and to successfully navigate through College Bound's Virtual Mentoring Program.

The End-of-Year Celebration is an acknowledgement of the hard work and sacrifices the students and their families have made in order to succeed. It is a significant milestone in the students' lives and a recognition of their accomplishments.

I commend College Bound for their commitment to mentoring and guiding our youth down a successful path. I also commend the students and graduates for their determination and perseverance.

On behalf of the 706,000 residents of Washington, DC, I wish you an inspiring celebration and continued success in the future.

Muriel Bowser

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

ATTORNEY GENERAL
KARL A. RACINE

May 21, 2020

To the students, staff, and volunteers of College Bound:

As the Attorney General for the District of Columbia, I would like to extend my heartfelt congratulations on your 29th Annual End of Year Celebration.

Since its founding, College Bound has provided exemplary support to public and charter school students across the DC metropolitan area as they work towards high school graduation and prepare for college. Yet the program and its students have never before dealt with a school year like this one.

In the face of an unprecedented challenge presented by the COVID-19 pandemic, the College Bound team made sure the more than 400 students you supported in the Greater Washington region had the technology they needed continue their education online. A pandemic simply would not deter the mission of helping every single one of these promising students get into college and graduate—an objective College Bound has met for the past 10 years. And, in turn, your students demonstrated great resilience as they stuck to their studies and kept their grades up to receive those diplomas.

In these difficult and uncertain times, it is more important than ever to honor students' accomplishments—while recognizing the community partners, volunteers, and community leaders who helped them reach their academic goals. The members of this graduating class are well-equipped to succeed in college and beyond, thanks in no small part to those who make College Bound's work possible.

On behalf of District residents, I congratulate our students and commend College Bound for making a real difference in their lives and education. I hope and expect the 29th Annual End of the Year Celebration will be among your most joyful yet!

Sincerely,

Karl A. Racine

Friends, Family and Guest:

Congratulations to all of the students celebrating this 29th Annual End of Year Celebration!

And thanks, as well, to College Bound. Nearly three decades of commitment to advancing students in higher education is quite the milestone. In our increasingly technological society, college is important. College Bound's commitment to preparing students in our region for higher education makes a big difference. I also want to acknowledge the important work of the Virtual Mentoring Program, at a time when support for college students is especially needed. Author Margaret Mead said, "Never believe that a few caring people can't change the world. For, indeed, that's all who ever have."

Despite the unprecedented circumstances affecting our country, I join with you in virtually recognizing the hard work of all the College Bound students and graduates. Have a joyous celebration!

Washington, DC 20001

I would like to extend a warm welcome to all of the attendees of the Annual End of the Year Celebration. It is an honor to offer congratulations on behalf of the residents of Ward 3 and the Council of the District of Columbia.

I would like to take a moment to thank College Bound for its continued service and dedication to improving our community. Since 1991, College Bound has done the important work of educating District students and providing those interested in attending college an outlet in which to receive tutoring, mentoring, and guidance. The celebration today is especially important because your attendance recognizes these students that have worked so hard, even in the midst of these challenging circumstances. We should all take this opportunity to thank College Bound for its unwavering dedication to the next generation.

Congratulations on what I'm sure will be a successful event, even virtually!

Congratulations to College Bound's 29th Annual End of Year Celebration

May 12, 2020

On behalf of the residents of Ward 4, I would like to congratulate the participants of College Bound for your 29th Annual End of year Celebration.

Since College Bound's inception in 1991, it has guided students down the path of success. It has helped countless students obtain the critical skills which have allowed them to prosper at colleges and universities throughout the country.

While this event will certainly look and feel different than in years past, it is no less monumental. Today, we highlight the accomplishments of our students, community partners, volunteers, community leaders and participants of the Academic Mentoring Program. We have reached this point thanks to the support of so many who have made our lives fuller and better.

Once again, congratulations on this momentous occasion. This day marks an important celebration in your lives. You have made our entire community proud. Please know that in me, you will always have a friend on the Council of the District of Columbia.

Respectfully Yours,

Congratulations to the College Bound Graduating Class of 2020!

As former mayor and current Ward 7 Councilmember, it is an honor to congratulate you, the College Bound Class of 2020, on the very special occasion of your graduation. Even during this difficult time, your graduation is still a remarkable celebratory event. Whether you attend a virtual graduation or participate through public display happening throughout the District, remember this occasion marks a significant accomplishment with heartfelt memories of the past and big dreams for the future.

When you receive your diploma, take time to reflect on your time spent as a high school student. More importantly, find ways to thank your teachers for the work they had you do; you'll appreciate it as you enter college. Thank your friends who helped you create moments that will last a lifetime. Thank your parents and your adult caregivers for their support and encouragement. They, perhaps more than anyone, have helped to make you who you are today.

Your high school graduation is not the end of a tough journey. It is the beginning a beautiful adventure. Although we are going through difficult times, believe in yourself and remember that you are destined for more great things! Congratulations!

Best wishes,

Vincent C. Gray

Board Chair, Board of Directors

Welcome to the 29th Annual College Bound End of Year Celebration. In this, my second year as Board Chair of College Bound, I have the honor to formally invite you on behalf of the dedicated members of our Board of Directors, to join with us in celebration of the continuing work of College Bound to inspire, encourage, uplift, teach and support our public and charter high school student participants towards scholastic achievement that leads to college admission and the attainment of a college degree. This celebration is an important moment in the developing lives of our students as it gives us a chance to say to them with voices raised that we recognize and appreciate the hard work and commitment it takes to do what is necessary to achieve scholastic success. We have the chance today to show them we know that they have earned this celebration, one challenging day at a time. Tonight is also important because it gives us a chance to appreciate the generosity of each member of the College Bound donor family, without whom we could not possibly be the impactful presence College Bound has become in the lives of our student participants. I am truly excited to share in this wonderful celebration with the parents, mentors, staff, board members and everyone who have made it possible for our amazing students to excel. Together we have learned that believing in our students never disappoints!

A good chef will tell you that "it's all about the recipe". Well I am encouraged now more than ever that College Bound has the right recipe for fostering scholastic and future professional achievement in students. As I invite you to join us in celebration of the achievements of our students in the program, and appreciate the work and support of the College Bound mentors, staff, donors, sponsors and so many other members of the College Bound family, I would be remiss if I didn't encourage each of you to peruse our website at www.collegebound.org regularly to become informed, and keep informed, about the many exciting activities and events throughout the year in which we enjoy the participation and engagement of civic, community and business leaders, parents, teachers, mentors, donors and other supporters. The closer you get to College Bound, the more you'll begin to see that, in addition to its outstanding core tutoring and mentorship programs, College Bound's "recipe" for cultivating excellence in our students draws "ingredients" from every sector of our vibrant community.

Lastly, please join us this evening in congratulating our honorees, Ms. Roberta McLeod ("Lady Blackburn"), the recipient of our Hall of Fame Award; and Many Hands, the recipient of College Bound's Annual Community Leadership Award. Their relentless dedication to community service through inspiring, encouraging, supporting and, indeed, empowering new generations of leadership is truly exemplary and most deserving of our grateful recognition.

On behalf of the College Bound Board of Directors, I am extremely proud of our graduating seniors and know that continued success is in their future. We thank all of you for your enthusiastic support of our programs and students and encourage you to continue to support College Bound as we make college completion a reality for our students.

Sincerely,
Archie Rich II, Board Chair

Kenneth Ward

Executive Director

PIVOT. This is one of the words that I have used often in mentoring youth as well as young professionals. I am a strong believer that in life sometimes "stuff" happens of such magnitude that you have no choice but to simply PIVOT. I also strongly feel that you can prepare yourself for those times in life when you must pivot by obtaining the skills and education to make you more adroit at navigating the uncertainties of life. I am grateful that during these challenging times, that's what we are continuing to do at College Bound - helping public school students, many of whom are often neglected by society, to pivot. I salute all of our program participants, especially the Class of 2020 for their ability to pivot and persevere.

Over the last few months, our families, communities, country, and world have all been forced to PIVOT. We have had to rethink the way that we live- from doing business, to learning, to mourning, and to continue creating our futures. What we know is that this reign will pass and from this point forward, life will be different for the planet. If we are wise, we will use this time to redefine what's most important for us as individuals and as a collective. COVID-19 has taught us that regardless of our social or economic standing, we are all vulnerable. It has also exposed some stark inequities in our society, which we knew existed, but often don't want to confront. Additionally, it has allowed us to be human and express acts of kindness towards others. From making masks to preparing goods for those without, thousands of people have given of themselves to help others. This decency is who I believe we are at our core. Sometimes, however, traumatic situations can cause some people to be fearful and jaded. It is our responsibility and opportunity to allow our lights to shine in the midst of darkness to remind them of the greater good.

Our awardees, Ms. McLeod and Many Hands, have been beacons of light for many years. Their work has generational impact, as it will be around for the ages. Our keynote speaker, Molly Smith, intentionally brings transformational work to life at Arena Stage every season. On behalf of the Class of 2020, I thank Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor for sharing her wisdom and love with us again this year. Finally, I give thanks for the lives of Dr. David Driskell and our former board member, Leo Lawless. They have left an indelible mark on my life and shared their wisdom, time, and talent unselfishly. I remain thankful for all of the blessings and lessons, as they help me to IMAGINE a better world.

Kenneth

Molly Smith

Keynote Speaker

MOLLY SMITH has served as Artistic Director of Arena Stage since 1998. Her more than 30 directing credits at Arena Stage include large-scale musicals like Anything Goes, Newsies, Carousel, Fiddler on the Roof, Oklahoma!, My Fair Lady, The Music Man, Cabaret, South Pacific; new plays like Celia and Fidel, Sovereignty, The Originalist, Camp David, Legacy of Light, The Women of Brewster Place, How I Learned to Drive; and classics like Mother Courage and Her Children, A Moon for the Misbegotten, The Great White Hope, and All My Sons. Her directorial work has also been seen Off-Broadway at 59E59 in New York, Portland Center Stage, Canada's Shaw Festival, The Court Theatre, The Old Globe, Asolo Repertory, Berkeley Repertory, Trinity Repertory, Toronto's Tarragon Theatre, Montreal's Centaur Theatre and Perseverance Theater in Juneau, Alaska, which she founded and ran from 1979-1998. Molly has been a leader in new play development for over 40 years.

She is a great believer in first, second and third productions of new work and has championed projects including Dear Evan Hansen; Next to Normal; Passion Play, a cycle; and How I Learned to Drive. She led the re-invention of Arena Stage, focusing on the architecture and creation of the Mead Center for American Theater and positioning Arena Stage as a national center for American artists through its artistic programming. During her time with the company, Arena Stage has workshopped more than 100 productions, produced 39 world premieres, staged numerous second and third productions and been an important part of nurturing nine projects that went on to have a life on Broadway. In 2014, Molly made her Broadway debut directing The Velocity of Autumn, following its critically acclaimed run at Arena Stage. She was awarded honorary doctorates from American University and Towson University. In 2018, she was honored as Person of the Year by the National Theatre Conference and inducted into the Washington DC Hall of Fame. This year she was awarded the Director of Distinction in Cairo, Egypt from the Academy of Arts.

Community Leadership Award Recipient

ManyHands
Together we make a difference

Many Hands is a women's grantmaking organization committed to making a lasting impact on the lives of Washington, DC area women, children, and families in need and to helping its members become well-informed donors.

Since 2004, we have granted more than $1.9 million to 35 area nonprofits who collectively touch the lives of tens of thousands of individuals in the District of Columbia, Montgomery County, Prince George's County, and Northern Virginia. Every year, we award one Impact Grant of $100,000 and three Partner Grants to applicants chosen by our membership. The size of our Partner Grants depends on the total raised during that grant cycle. In 2020, each Partner Grant was $55,500. Our grants allow organizations to support core programs, launch new strategic ventures, or make capacity-building investments that will increase their effectiveness. Ultimately, the impact of our grantmaking is measured in the changes our grantees bring to the lives of the people they serve.

Since our founding, we have welcomed more than 600 women as members of Many Hands. Our members come from the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia and represent a broad range of backgrounds. In Many Hands, our members find a diverse community of women who care deeply about the challenges facing women, children, and families in need in our region. Through our grant review process and education events, they become better-informed donors, learning both about local needs in education, health, housing, and job readiness and about the nonprofits that work daily to address them. Many members go on to support or volunteer with organizations they have met through Many Hands. By educating, empowering, and engaging our donors, we expand our impact on our community

We are pleased to present the 2020 Community Leadership Award the Many Hands Organization.
